

NPHC BlogIt – Final Celebration

You're Invited to a NPHCBlogIt Celebration: Monday, December 14, 2015

Wow! Wow! Wow! We Did It!

It's hard to believe that six weeks have passed since we started NPHC BlogIt on November 2, 2015. The amount of creative output has been astonishing, not to mention the terrific ongoing discussions about what it means to be Not Perfect. To say thank you and commemorate our time together, we will be hosting THREE NPHC Celebrations on Monday, December 14th. Why three? Because we wanted to be sure that everyone who participated would have a chance to join the fun.

DATE: December 14, 2015 (December 15th for those in southern climes)

PLACE: CritterKin's Field Trip Zoom classroom. To access the room, click on this link: <https://fieldtripzoom.zoom.us/my/critterkin>

You will be prompted to download a launch code and then taken to the room. If you have never participated in one of our readings, contact Jena to test your connection at: JenaBall@CritterKin.com

TIME: There will be three celebrations so that everyone can participate. We will video tape each one and create a final compilation video. Please check the schedule below to find your time. If you don't see your time or have questions, please contact Jena at: JenaBall@CriticterKin.com.

Preparations - These are ALL optional. Please do as much or as little as you can

- Please ask your students to come dressed as their favorite character in the book (dogs are always fun).
- Please invite friends and family to join us if that is appropriate.

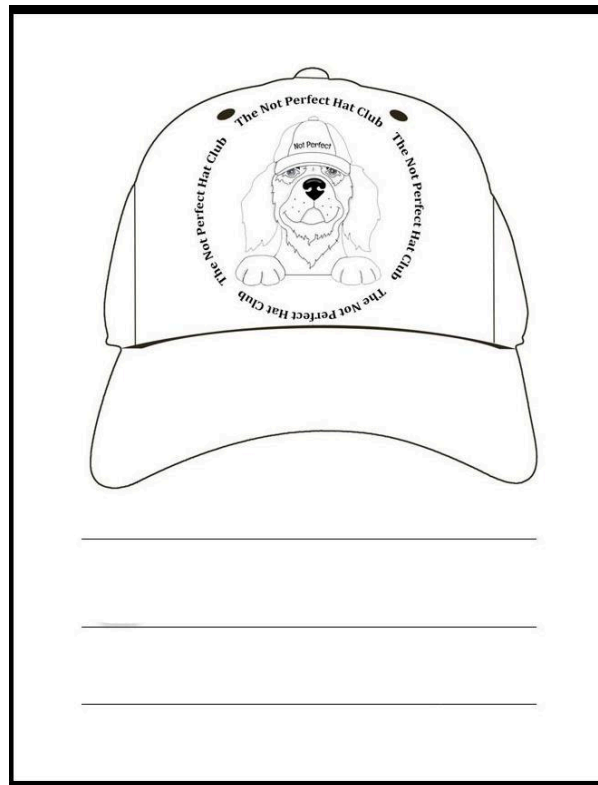

- Please have snacks for the kids if that is appropriate.
- Please decorate your room any way you feel would make it feel festive.
- Please be ready to take photos and videos of the event so we can celebrate the kids.

Activities

(The celebration will take about 20 to 30 minutes and consist of two parts)

Part I - Student Messages to the World

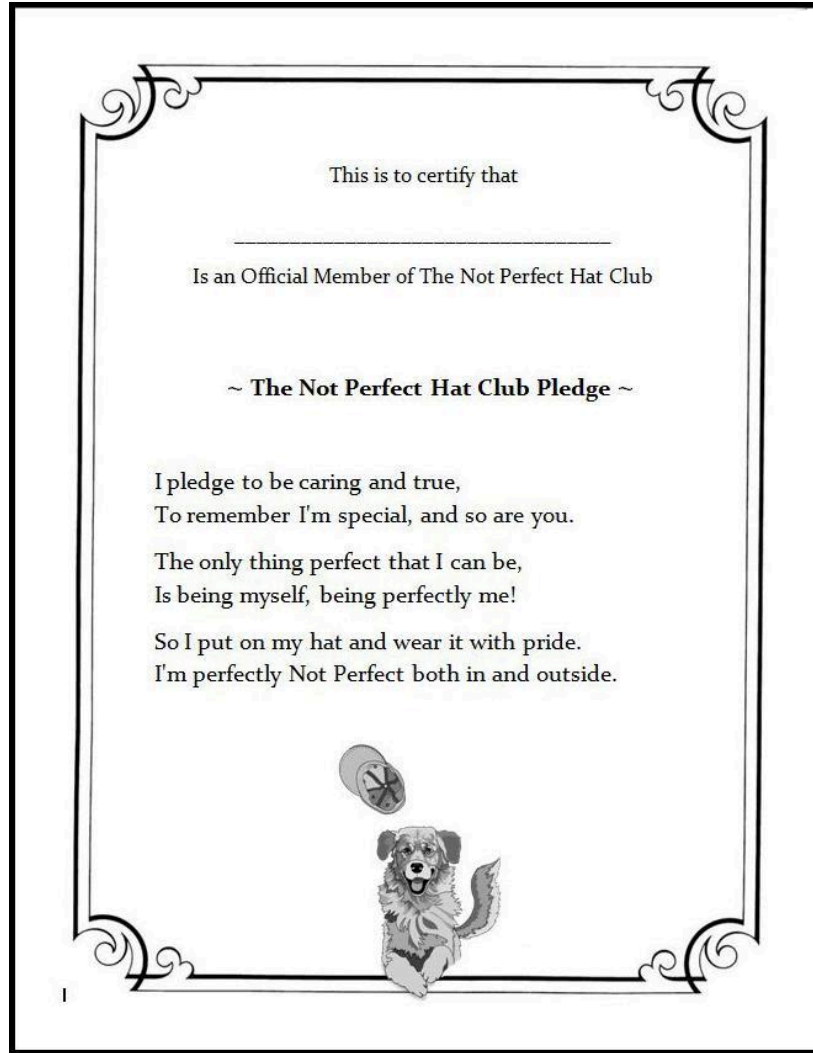

Below you will find a black and white drawing of Newton on a Not Perfect Hat for your students to color and sign (please sign on the brim). You will notice that there are lines at the bottom of the page. These are for students to write what they would like to say to other students around the world about being Not Perfect. This doesn't have to be elaborate. It could be as simple as, "Nobody's perfect. Just be yourself." Depending on the number of classes participating, we will let each student show his/her picture and read his/her statement aloud.

Part II - Take the Pledge

After sharing our messages to the world, we will take the pledge together. Below you will find certificates to copy and fill out with the students' names. Please make one for each student. We will repeat the pledge together and your students will then be "Official" members of the Not Perfect Hat Club. Congratulations are in order!

We will be filming everything, but would appreciate it more than we can say if you can take photos and videos at your end as well. Thank you very very much for helping to make NPHCBlogIt an outstanding event. We have been so impressed by the response.
